MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF
RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

Results of Operations for the Three Months Ended February 29, 1996

Compared to the Three Months Ended February 28, 1995

The following table presents an analysis of the Company's underwriting revenues for the periods indicated:

	Three Months Ended		% Change
	February 29, 1996	February 28, 1995
	(unaudited)
Gross premiums written	$219,130	138,113	58.7%
Net premiums written	163,713	138,073	18.6
Net premiums earned	130,258	130,746	(0.4)

The increase in gross premiums written in 1996 was predominantly due to the growth in specialty reinsurance assumed (SRA), written primarily by the Company's newly formed subsidiary, X.L. Reinsurance Company, Ltd. (XLRe). These premiums are generally multi-year premiums reflecting net future year premiums of $38 million of the total $41.2 million recognized in the quarter. Gross premiums written adjusted for this multi-year effect was $177.9 million compared to adjusted premiums for the 1995 quarter of $152.4 million, an increase of 16.7%.

11

The following table presents the split of gross premiums written by X.L. Insurance Company, Ltd. (X.L.) and X.L. Europe Insurance (X.L.E.) and XLRe and reflects the growth in SRA for the periods indicated, adjusted for the effects of multi-year premiums:

	February 29, 1996			February 28, 1995			Total
	X.L.	X.L.E.	XLRe	Total	X.L.	X.L.E.
	(Unaudited)
General liability	83,301	20,645	-	103,946	98,968	23,903	122,871
Directors and officers liability	4,513	454	-	4,967	3,880	817	4,697
Professional liability	3,804	992	-	4,796	4,473	1,650	6,123
Property	3,787	-	-	3,787	229	-	229
Speciality reinsurance assumed	10,150	9,723	40,562	60,435	6,375	12,146	18,521
Annualized premiums	105,555	31,814	40,562	177,931	113,925	38,516	152,441

Multi-year premiums	(28,400)	77	69,522	41,199	(14,559)	231	(14,328)
	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----

XLRe is the primary writer of SRA. The SRA premiums written by X.L. represent the culmination of specific deals where the negotiations commenced prior to the incorporation of XLRe. SRA policyholders are few in number with substantial multi-year premiums. These policies characteristically allow for the return of significant levels of premiums in the event no losses are incurred by the end of the policy term. Premiums assumed in the first quarter are not indicative of future periods.

SRA premiums assumed by X.L.E. relates solely to reinsurance protection provided to a Bermuda insurer who provides certificates of financial responsibility to ship owners for compliance with the U.S. Oil Pollution Act of 1990. The decline in premiums over the comparative quarter in 1995 reflects the development of the market where capacity was previously unavailable. It is expected additional premiums will be assumed on this program throughout the fiscal year, although at a level markedly lower than the first quarter.

The Company's property line continues to establish itself and remains to be the only other area of growth. The Company's traditional product lines, general, directors and officers, and professional liability continue to feel the impact of the tremendous competitive pressures from the U.S. domestic insurance market. These pressures are clearly reflected in an increase in the average attachment point from $74 million to $95 million and a decrease in the business retention rate from 89% to 86% for the Company's traditional product lines, for the three months ended February 28, 1995 and February 29, 1996 respectively.

The following table presents certain underwriting information with respect to the business written by the Company for the periods indicated:

	Gross Premiums Written		Net Premiums written		Net Premiums earned
	Feb. 29, 1996	Feb. 28, 1995	Feb. 29, 1996	Feb.28, 1995	Feb. 29, 1996	Feb. 28, 1995

Net premiums written for the quarter ended February 29, 1996 was affected by a quota share reinsurance policy entered into for most general liability risks written on a guaranteed cost form, with certain exclusions, effective

December 1, 1995. X.L. cedes 20% of these risks with total limits up to $100 million and 25% with total limits in excess of $100 million. Of the $54.2 million of the premiums ceded under this program, $35.5 million related to the cession of the Company's unearned premiums at December 1 1995 to provide reinsurance coverage protection on in force policies from this date. Net premiums written adjusted for the general liability quota share and multi-year premiums, would have increased 15.9%.

Net earned premiums were impacted by the growth in SRA premiums less the expense of premiums ceded under the new quota share arrangement. If the general liability quota share program was excluded, net earned premiums would have increased by 12.6%.

The following table presents an analysis of the Company's revenues from its portfolio of investments and its investment in affiliate:

	Three Months Ended		% Change
	February 29, 1996	February 28, 1995
	----- (unaudited)	-----	-----
Net investment income	$ 47,773	$50,170	(4.8%)
Net realized gains (losses)	136,059	(6,874)	N/M
Equity in net earnings of affiliate	16,113	5,053	N/M

Net investment income for the first quarter in 1995 included unrealized currency gains of $1.1 million compared to $nil for the comparative quarter in 1996, resulting in adjusted decline of 2.6%. The decrease in investment income was caused by several factors. The U.S. bond market had remained strong for most of the first quarter of 1996 keeping yields low, unlike the comparable 1995 quarter which was weaker resulting in higher yields. The equity component of the total investment portfolio also increased to 19.3% from 17.6% as at February 28, 1995. In addition, the Company has liquidated two fixed maturity portfolio and one equity portfolio due to similarities in strategies between managers, creating an influx of cash and the realization of significant gains. From the realized proceeds, $250 million was used to capitalize XLRe.

Equity in net earnings in affiliate increased principally due to the Company's equity share of realized gains of $2.6 million versus realized losses of $6.4 million.

The following table sets forth the Company's combined ratios and the components thereof for the periods indicated using U.S. generally accepted accounting principles:

14

Three Months Ended
February 29, 1996	February 28, 1995

(unaudited)

Loss and loss expense ratio	80.0%	78.2%
Underwriting expense ratio	13.6%	15.0%
Combined ratio	93.6%	93.2%

The increase in the loss and loss expense ratio reflects an increase in the rate at which incurred but not reported reserves are established on the Company's casualty lines of business, which commenced during the fourth quarter of 1995. The higher ratio is reflective of continuing soft market conditions which has required a degree of flexibility in premium rates.

The underwriting expense ratio decreased in the first quarter of 1996 compared to the same period of 1995 due to commissions earned on the new quota share reinsurance program. Excluding this reinsurance arrangement, the underwriting expense ratio for the said 1996 period would have been 14.9%.

Net income was $207.1 million or $4.33 per share and $56.9 million or $1.06 per share for the quarters ended February 29, 1996 and February 28, 1995, respectively, representing an increase of 308.5% per share. The increase in per share amounts is largely attributable to realized investment gains of $130.7 million compared to losses of $6.9 million for the respective quarters.

Financial Condition and Liquidity

As a holding company, the Company's assets consist primarily of its investments in the stock of its subsidiaries and the Company's future cash flows depend on the availability of dividends or other statutorily permissible payments from its subsidiaries. In order to pay dividends, the amount of which is limited to accumulated net realized profits, the Company's principal subsidiary, X.L., must maintain certain minimum levels of statutory capital and surplus, solvency and liquidity pursuant to Bermuda statutes and regulations. At February 29, 1996, X.L. could have paid dividends in the amount of approximately $1.1 billion. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries other than X.L. had any other restrictions preventing them from paying dividends. No assurance, however, can be given that the Company or its subsidiaries will not be prevented from paying dividends in the future. The Company's shareholders' equity at February 29, 1996 was $2.0 billion, of which $1.6 billion was retained earnings.

At February 29, 1996, total investments and cash net of the payable for investments purchased were $3.9 billion compared to $3.8 billion at November 30, 1995.

The Company's fixed income investments (including short-term investments and cash and cash equivalents net of the payable for investments purchased) at February 29, 1996 represented approximately 83% of invested assets and were managed by several outside investment management firms with different strategies. All fixed income securities are of investment grade and include U.S. and non-U.S. sovereign government obligations and corporate and other securities. Of the Company's fixed income portfolio, 76.6% is rated Aa or AA or better by a nationally recognized rating agency or an investment manager. Cash and cash equivalents net of the payable for investments purchased was $428.7 million at February 29, 1996, compared to $437.3 million at November 30, 1995.

During the quarter ended February 29, 1996, the Company liquidated an equity portfolio whose primary objective was to meet or exceed the performance of the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index ("S&P 500"). The Company reinvested these funds in a synthetic equity portfolio whereby S&P 500 stock index futures are purchased with an exposure equal to the value of underlying fixed maturity and short-term investments held in the portfolio. At February 29, 1996, the Company held stock index futures with an exposure of $206 million.

The Company purchased a further 354,000 of its outstanding shares during the quarter ended February 29, 1996, at a cost of $22.2 million, increasing its treasury holding to 8.4 million shares. The Company has 2.6 million shares remaining in its authorized share repurchase program.

In fiscal 1994, 1995 and in fiscal 1996 through February 29, the total amount of losses paid by the Company was $138.7 million, $188.5 million and $40.7 million, respectively.

Insurance practices and regulatory guidelines suggest that property and casualty insurance companies maintain a ratio of net premiums written to statutory capital and surplus of not greater than 3 to 1, with a lower ratio considered to be more prudent for a company that insures the types of exposures written by X.L. X.L. maintained a ratio of less than 0.9 to 1 for the year ended November 30, 1995 and 0.5 to 1 (calculated on an annualized basis) for the three months ended February 29, 1996. The decrease is reflective of a decrease in multi-year contracts written, thereby impacting gross premiums written and hence the ratio of net premiums written to statutory capital and surplus and the new general liability quota share reinsurance program.

X.L. establishes reserves to provide for the estimated expenses of settling claims, the general expenses of administering the claims adjustment process and for losses incurred but not reported. X.L. calculates such reserves by using actuarial and other reserving techniques to project the estimated ultimate net liability for losses and loss expenses. No assurance can be given that actual claims made and payments related thereto will not be in excess of the amounts reserved.

Inflation can have an effect on the Company in that inflationary factors can increase damage awards and potentially result in more claims exceeding applicable minimum attachment points. The Company's underwriting philosophy is to adjust premiums in response to inflation, although this may not always be possible due to competitive pressures. Inflationary factors are considered in determining the premium level on multi-year policies at the time the contracts are written. In addition, the Company from time to time evaluates whether minimum attachment points should be raised to take into account inflationary factors; as of this date, no revisions to minimum attachment points have been implemented.

Outlook -----

The Company believes competitive pressures will continue throughout fiscal 1996 and constrain growth in the Company's traditional product lines. However, the Company believes specific opportunities will exist through the further growth of the Company's property product line, XLRe and the recently announced CIGNA Risk Solutions and X.L. Risk Solutions provided through a strategic alliance between X.L. and CIGNA Property & Casualty. The alliance will offer large commercial accounts a broad range of traditional property and casualty protection and reinsurance placements from monoline coverages to a new multi-line, long-term package focused on balance sheet protection. Combined limits of up to $400 million and term limits up to $1 billion for multi-year programs of three to five years will be available.
